THE EMERGING DIGITAL INFRASTRUCTURE IN INDIA

Dr. Ranjeet Mehta

India is on the cusp of a massive digital revolution. We are in exciting times and being a digitally native country, there is an opportunity to ride on the digital infrastructure to strengthen payments, trade and information flows to aid sustainable and inclusive growth. The Digital India campaign hopes to connect villages with broadband internet. As per a McKinsey report, the country's GDP will be boosted by $550 billion, pushing the GDP to $1 trillion by 2025. E-Commerce firms are striving to bank on India's rural market in cooperation with the government's Digital India initiative.

As a result, e-governance is set to transform the efficiency, effectiveness, transparency and accountability of informational & transactional exchanges with in government, between govt. & govt. agencies of National, State, Municipal & Local levels, citizen & businesses, and it's going to empower citizens through access & use of information. The rise of e-government has been one of the most striking developments of the web. As the Internet supported digital communities evolve, and assuming that they do indeed grow to incorporate individuals around the country (and globe), they present the national governments with a number of challenges and opportunities both.

Global shifts towards increased deployment of IT by governments emerged in the nineties, with the advent of the World Wide Web. Unprecedented changes will be seen in the 'quantity' and 'quality' of digital access in India in next few years. People may argue against the need for a robust digital infrastructure in India. However, one must realize that the economic barriers to that are very high. There are numerous factors that will hold key to achieving India's digital infrastructure dream. The scale of the internet is so huge, that it doesn't make sense to look at the information on a monthly basis, or even to use daily figures.

It's almost unbelievable to know - what happens in just one internet minute. In just a single minute on the web, 46,200 photos are shared on Instagram, a total of $751,522 is spent online, 1.8 million Snaps are created and there are 990,000 swipes on Tinder. Google performs 3.5 million searches each minute while 4.1 million videos are viewed on YouTube within the space of 60 seconds. In a social media universe where there are no barriers to entry and almost infinite amounts of competition, the content game has tilted to become a winner take all scenario. Since people don't have the time to look at the 452,200 tweets sent every minute, they naturally settle to the things that already have social proof.

Chemistry is one of the most important fundamental sciences. It is the study of matter, its properties, how and why substances combine or separate to form other substances, and how substances interact with energy. Chemistry tries to decode the details of Chemical molecules and their component atoms.

The research and development in the field of chemistry has given us everything from soaps, cosmetics to medicines. The field of chemistry basically studies the substances and how these substances react with each other. Chemistry is a discipline which studies elements and compounds, atoms, molecules and ions, their composition, structure, properties, behaviour and the changes they undergo during a reaction with other substances. Chemistry professionals may also enter into other branches related to this field. A career in chemistry is definitely the good way to contribute positively to this world through your work.

CAREERS IN CHEMISTRY

Chemistry in everyday life

Chemistry is a part of our everyday life. We start the day with Chemistry. One can find chemistry in daily life in the foods we eat, the air we breathe, chemicals we use in cleaning, our emotions and literally every object we see or touch. Our body is made up of chemical compounds, which are combinations of elements. The emotions that one feels are a result of chemical messengers, primarily neurotransmitters. Love, jealousy, envy, infatuation and other emotions have a link with chemistry. As soon as we cut an onion, the tears begin to emerge. What is it in an onion that makes it burn our eyes? Soap is a chemical that mankind has been making for a very long time. Can you imagine how different the world around you would be if ice sank? Chemistry holds the explanation for why ice floats, while most substances sink when they freeze. Sunscreen uses chemistry to filter or block the sun's harmful ultraviolet rays to protect from a sunburn, skin cancer, or both. Do you know how sunscreen works or what an SPF rating really means? Can bottled water go bad? You can apply chemistry to decide when and where to use household chemicals. Food goes bad because of chemical reactions that occur between food molecules. Fats can become rancid. Certain bacterial growth can make one sick. What about products that don't contain fat? The answers to many such questions lie in the study of Chemistry. Chemistry is indeed a part and parcel of our everyday life. A human being himself or herself is a big bag of chemicals!

Employment outlook

Industrial growth has led to a great demand for trained chemists and this trend is expected to continue. Opportunities for students in Chemistry exists in industries manufacturing textiles, petroleum products, rubber, plastics, agricultural products, papers and pulp, metal, cement and aerospace industries, pharmaceutical, food, fertilizers, paints and even in cosmetic and other aromatic product manufacturing industries. Food chemistry and technology incorporates the work chemists do in food flavoring, pet foods, food preservatives. These are Just 15 out of 100 households have access to the Internet, and mobile broadband remains for a privileged few, with only 5.5 subscriptions for every 100 people, according to the WEF. However, India has skipped a generation in telecom technology-going from no connectivity to over 350 million mobile Internet users-in less than two decades. This needs to be factored in while planning the democratization of digital access in India.

The impending growth of digital assets has offered India with many unique opportunities to leapfrog its traditional deficit in physical infrastructure. It will help enhance the economic conditions in remote areas, spur new businesses by enabling access for a large number of micro small and medium enterprises (MSMEs), creating a strong digital identity for the country. Above all, digital infrastructure growth will empower the government to embrace and enable innovation, provide resources to help increase agricultural productivity as well as enable improved healthcare access for rural areas, potentially reducing mortality levels. It will also bring financial services to the unbanked rural and underprivileged communities and help fulfil the country's longstanding goal of education for all.

India currently ranks low in broadband penetration, even among developing countries. Internet access has grown, driven by a higher penetration of mobile handsets and wireless infrastructure in urban and tier I and tier II towns, but broadband penetration in the larger part of the country is still bleak. Current estimates show that broadband only reaches approximately 600 corridors, largely in and around the top 50-100 Indian cities. On the other hand, the country aspires to create a 'Digital India' with a broadband highway offering a 100-Mbps connectivity to 250,000 gram panchayats. The funds needed to create a national IP backbone and ensure 'last-mile connectivity' have not been supported by a strong underlying business case. The creation of 'Digital Bharat' calls for radical changes to regulatory frameworks, allowing the generation of viable business models for inclusive broadband growth. There is significant public funding involved in making National Optical Fibre Network (NOFN) come true, but private sector operators have so far seen little value in pursuing fiber deployment beyond the top cities. This calls for the creation of robust models of public-private partnership, driven by a combination of rights of way, release of spectrum and creation of a content ecosystem to spur revenue generation via digital infrastructure.

India will have around 500 million internet users by 2020.

Barring Unstructured Supplementary Service Data (USSD), which is SMS based and best suited for feature phones, other plans like UPI and BHIM need internet connectivity. To boost connectivity the government has increased the outlay for BharatNet-touted as the world's largest rural broadband connectivity project -to `10,000 crore in 2017-18. The project will help deploy high speed connectivity across 1.5 lakh gram panchayats. RailTel Wi-Fi, the Indian Railways project with Google to deploy free Wi-Fi, is live at 110 stations and shows ample appetite for online transactions.

On the cusp of a revolution, digital payments are poised to become the new normal in India, and as more people transact online, India should see new taxpayers and better transparency in income in the days to come. India's crusade for a cashless economy seems set to speed into a gallop with government's measures designed to encourage more people to embrace digital transactions. Digital payments companies are giving the industry a big thrust. Government is identifying ways to encourage digital payments. To keep pace with the various schemes private companies employ to win over customers.

Digital India

Prime Minister Mr Narendra Modi's, Digital India initiative is a renewed push to address the delays plaguing flagship programs that focus on universal broadband access and mobile connectivity. Direct spending via public-sector organizations like BSNL (Bharat Sanchar Nigam Ltd), Railtel, and PGCIL (Power Grid Corporation of India Ltd) will be limited, but significant indirect demand will result from many more of the 68% of India's population that lives in rural areas coming online.

The vision of Digital India programme aims at inclusive growth in areas of electronic services, products, manufacturing and job opportunities etc. It is centered on three key areas -

- ♦ Digital Infrastructure as a Utility to Every Citizen
- ♦ Governance & Services on Demand
- ♦ Digital Empowerment of Citizens

With the above vision, the Digital India programme aims to provide Broadband Highways, Universal Access to Mobile Connectivity, Public Internet Access Programme, E-Governance: Reforming Government through Technology, eKranti - Electronic Delivery of Services, Information for All, Electronics Manufacturing: Target Net Zero Imports, IT for Jobs and Early Harvest Programmes. Digital India comprises of various initiatives under the single programme each targeted to prepare India for becoming a knowledge economy and for bringing good governance to citizens through synchronized and co-ordinated engagement of the entire Government.

Policy initiatives have also been undertaken (by DeitY) in the e-Governance domain like e-Kranti Framework, Policy on Adoption of Open Source Software for Government of India, Framework for Adoption of Open Source Software in e-Governance Systems, Policy on Open Application Programming Interfaces (APIs) for Government of India, E-mail Policy of Government of India, Policy on Use of IT Resources of Government of India, Policy on Collaborative Application Development by Opening the Source Code of Government Applications, Application Development & Re-Engineering Guidelines for Cloud Ready Applications. Also-

- ♦ BPO Policy has been approved to create BPO centres in different North Eastern states and also in smaller / mofussil towns of other states.
- ♦ Electronics Development Fund (EDF) Policy aims to promote Innovation, R&D, and Product Development and to create a resource pool of IP within the country to create a self-sustaining ecosystem of Venture Funds.
- ♦ National Centre for Flexible Electronics (NCFlexE) is an initiative of Government of India to promote research and innovation in the emerging area of Flexible Electronics.
- ♦ Centre of Excellence on Internet on Things (IoT) is a joint initiative of Department of Electronics & Information Technology (DeitY), ERNET and NASSCOM

To conclude, there has been a slow job creation in 2017 and 2018 in India's IT industry but in 2019 onwards the IT sector will be hunting for new talent. According to HR and staffing solutions provider TeamLease Services, IT companies in India are expected to begin to see get large deals coming their way, the sector is geared up to add around 250,000 new jobs in 2019.

In 2017, the IT sector added over 100,000 jobs, according to Nasscom. Now, the adoption of emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning, and robotics for automation is driving the industry's growth. Besides hiring afresh, Indian IT companies will continue to spend on upskilling employees. In 2019, this is estimated to increase by around 20% as per TeamLease. The overall job landscape in the IT sector will undergo radical changes over the next few years and certain job roles will continue to see increased demand. Some of the areas wherein positive growth in hiring is expected are mathematics, architecture, engineering-related fields, data analytics, machine learning, and AI development.

Industry believes that by 2020, job creation in the Indian IT sector is expected to surge to about 2 million new additions worldwide, of which around 13% will be in India. A potentially strong area of employment will be data analytics, an increasingly crucial field across industries. Other prominent roles in demand will be computer software developers, information security analysts, machine learning, mobility, cloud engineers, network analysts, and cybersecurity experts. Health-Sciences and Fin Tech are two industries that are going to hire extensively for data analytics and machine learning. It is expected that there will be a 25% rise in roles related to big data, business intelligence, and analytics, while cloud computing opportunities will increase by 23%. Startups will remain strong contributors to generating employment in the next two years because of their expanded adoption of AI, robotics, blockchain, and IoT. Jobs roles in IT have become multi-dimensional and the industry needs to take a generation leap in re-skilling its employees. To facilitate advance skilling, it is also crucial for organizations to hire highly skilled and technologically sound Human Resource Professionals.

Women sarpanches conferred with Swachh Shakti-2019 awards by Prime Minister

The third edition of the Swachh Shakti-2019 was held in Kurukshetra, Haryana. The national convention to highlight the leadership role played by rural women in Swachh Bharat Mission was inaugurated by the Prime Minister Narendra Modi on February 12, 2019. He also addressed and distributed the Swachh Shakti-2019 awards. Speaking on the occasion, Mr Modi said, "We all have heard about many prestigious beauty contests, but have we ever heard about the 'Toilet' contest? In rural India, recently a unique competition was initiated - Swachh Sundar Shauchalaya contest, where people decorated their toilets with paintings, local art and Swachh Bharat Abhiyan messages and logo. With such progress, I believe, there will be a time in India, when one of the villages will become a successful tourist spot, where people will come to visit the colourful toilets," The event was organised by the Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation in association with the Govt. of Haryana. Women Sarpanches and Panches from all over the country participated in the event, aimed at empowering the women. Best practices from grass root level in the rural areas for Swachh Bharat were shared by them. The event showcased the achievements of Swachh Bharat and the recently conducted Swachh Sunder Shauchalay, (neat and clean toilet) - a unique and first of its kind in the world campaign. The movement is a part of ongoing activities under the aegis of the Swachh Bharat Mission, launched on October 2nd, 2014 aimed at achieving a Clean and Open Defecation Free (ODF) India by 2nd October, 2019. Mr. Modi launched the Swachh Shakti program first in 2017 at Gandhinagar, Gujarat. 6000 women sarpanches from across the country had assembled in Gujarat on the occasion of International Women's Day under the banner of Swachh Shakti 2017. The second Swachh Shakti event, Swachh Shakti-2018 was held at Lucknow in Uttar Pradesh. 8000 women sarpanches, 3000 women Swachhagrahis and women champions from other walks of life from across the country were recognized for their outstanding contribution towards making a Swachh Bharat during the event. Swachh Shakti is an example of how at the grass root level, rural women champions are acting as a change agent to mobilize the community and lead from the front women taking initiatives for a Swachh Bharat. The movement is a part of ongoing activities under the aegis of the Swachh Bharat Mission, launched on October 2nd, 2014, by the Prime aimed at achieving a Clean and Open Defecation Free (ODF) India by 2nd October, 2019.

Pharmacologist: Pharmacologists undertake the development and testing of drugs, analysing how they interact with biological systems. This is essential for ensuring that drugs are effective and safe for human use, and may involve the testing of drugs on animals or on human volunteers. Pharmacology roles are often lab-based and may involve non-standard hours in order to monitor ongoing experiments.

Toxicologist: Toxicologists may study the effects of drugs on biological systems but also look at the effects of other substances, both natural and man-made. They work with and develop methodologies for determining harmful effects of substances, as well as how to judge correct dosages and therefore avoid them. As with pharmacology, toxicology roles are often lab-based and involve the monitoring of experiments and interpretation of results.

Water Chemist: Water chemists, as the name suggests, are concerned with analysing and maintaining the quality and condition of water, essential for human life on Earth. This is a highly interdisciplinary field, so as well as chemistry you may also need knowledge of linked fields such as microbiology and geology. You may find similar roles under a variety of names, for example hydrologist or hydrogeologist.

Analytical Chemist:

Analytical chemists use their skills and expertise to analyse substances, identify what components are present and in what quantities, as well how these components may behave and react with one another. This can include the analysis of drugs, food and other products to determine effectiveness, quality and to ensure they are safe for human consumption or use.

Forensic Scientist: Forensic scientists search for and analyse forensic materials found at crime scenes, for example blood and other bodily fluids, hair, or non-biological substances such as paint. They are then able to present this evidence for use in legal investigations and courts of law. Forensic scientists may sometimes be called in to speak in court as experts in their field, to explain the evidence to the jury.

Hazardous Waste Chemist: Hazardous waste chemists deal with the management and safe relocation of hazardous materials (hence the common abbreviation "hazmat"). They use their expertise to identify harmful chemical components in the air, water or soil, evaluate the danger they present and coordinate their removal and containment.

Geochemist: Geochemists study the physical and chemical properties of the Earth, particularly rocks and minerals. They use their knowledge to determine the make-up and distribution of rock and mineral components, and how these may affect the soil and water systems in which they are found. Geochemists may help to identify oil drill sites, improve water quality or determine how best to remove hazardous waste.

Chemical Engineer: Chemical engineers are involved in design and development of new products from raw materials. They use their knowledge of chemical properties and reactions to transform materials from one state to another, for example making plastic from oil. Chemical engineers may work in almost any industry, assisting in the production of innovative, high-end products such as ultra-strong fabrics or biocompatible implants.

Materials Scientist: Materials scientists study man-made and natural substances to determine their properties, composition and how they could be transformed or combined to increase effectiveness or create new materials. By analysing and experimenting with existing materials, materials scientists are able to enhance the way they are used and create new materials to better serve humanity's needs.

Organic Chemists work with organic carbon compounds and specialize in petroleum, dyes, rubber, alcohol, oils, natural fats, organic acids, pesticides, organic compounds and their polymerization and precipitate products which include plastics and soaps.

Inorganic Chemists work relates to metals, acids, salts and gases. Specialization is in production of acids, salts, minerals, metals etc.

Physical Chemists work with metals, ores, gases, and different chemical elements and compounds to ascertain their physical and chemical properties, radioactivity, structures, atomic and molecular weights etc. Specialized work is in the area of electrochemistry, thermodynamics, chromatography etc.

Remuneration

In the age of global revolution Chemist is a well-paid job. A person, who desires to pursue a career in this field, can expect a salary between 20000-55000 per month in the beginning. However salaries of chemistry professionals vary depending upon their individual qualifications, experience, size and nature of the hiring institutes. Persons with a superior record and high qualifications can achieve high positions. The salaries in college and university departments are comparable to those of teachers. Indeed, the salaries of special professionals are high. Chems Professionals working in research institutes and private research centers also have handsome earnings. Many companies are willing to pay handsome salaries to new chemists.

Publications Division's Book on Selected Speeches of Vice President Released

A day after the ghastly terror attack on a CRPF convoy in Jammu & Kashmir, the Vice President of India, Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu has asserted that the efforts of the neighbouring country to destabilise India can no longer be tolerated. He said "It is unfortunate that our neighbour has been aiding, abetting, funding and training terrorist groups. This attempt to destabilise and impede out progress can no longer be tolerated. We must stand united in our resolve to make every inch of our motherland a safer place."

At the release of the book "Selected Speeches" of Vice President, Shri Naidu by the former President, Shri Pranab Mukherjee, hundreds of participants mourned the loss of lives of CRPF soldiers in the Pulwama terror attack by observing silence.

Speaking on the occasion, Shri Venkaiah Naidu spoke at length on the issues confronting the country and various institutions and the need for a united effort to build a good future for the people based on the past and effectively handling the complexities of the present.

Shri Naidu stressed that "Nationalism is all about asserting that 'I am Indian first'. It is an overarching umbrella under which all our immediate identities are subsumed to form a larger collective. Unfortunately, certain misinformed individuals and organisations are fomenting trouble, and creating divisions where none existed before." Nationalism implies sharing a common past, a common present and a common future and in our country that has shown the power of peaceful coexistence and non-violence to the world, the acts of bigotry and narrow sectarianism should be strongly condemn.

Referring to the Polls soon to be held for Lok Sabha and some State Assemblies, Shri Naidu said "I would like to see more men and women being elected as legislators and parliamentarians with national outlook and having in them the four virtues of Character, Calibre, Capacity and Conduct" and not to allow the political system to be vitiated by Cash, Caste, Community and Criminality. He urged the people to demand a report card from the public representatives and make a critical assessment of their effectiveness at the time of voting in the elections.

The former President of India, Shri Pranab Mukherjee releasing the book "Selected Speeches - Volume 1" of speeches of the Vice President, Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu, in New Delhi on February 15, 2019. The Union Minister for Social Justice and Empowerment, Shri Thaawar Chand Gehlot, the Minister of State for Youth Affairs & Sports and Information & Broadcasting (I/C), Col. Rajyavardhan Singh Rathore and other dignitaries are also seen.

Conveying anguish over chronic disruptions in legislatures, Shri Naidu stated "Dysfunctional legislatures strengthen the demand for 'recall of legislators'. I am afraid we are close to this stage if things do not change". Stating that our legislatures instead of becoming effective forums of debate, are being reduced to 'disruptive platforms', Shri Naidu said "Against the backdrop of worrisome functioning of our Parliament and State Legislatures, this disruptive, dysfunctional tendency needs to be made an election issue".

The Vice President noted that disrupting the functioning of legislatures is a clear negation of the vision of the makers of the Constitution, an affront to the spirit of the Constitution, apathy towards the hopes and aspirations of the people and utter disregard for people's mandate. "It is a matter of concern that political discourse is reaching a new low in recent years. We should reverse this trend at the earliest" Shri Naidu said.

Referring to the just concluded Budget Session, the Chairman of Rajya Sabha Shri Naidu said that it was a matter of concern that despite the political slugfest over farm sector distress, the Members of Rajya Sabha and the parties did not find it necessary to discuss the direct income assistance to farmers announced in the interim Budget. He also noted that the Motion of Thanks to the President should have been adopted after detailed discussion. He particularly expressed concern over some leaders in Rajya Sabha telling him in the daily morning meetings that normal functioning of the House for the day cannot be allowed under instructions further to cropping up of some issue or the other instead of raising the same in the House.

Referring to Judiciary, the Vice President said it is disturbing to note the heavy pendency of cases and 67% of prisoners being under trials. He urged the Judiciary to play a constructive role in overcoming the formidable challenges to socio-economic development of the country and the public trust in Judiciary should not be allowed to be eroded.

Shri Naidu urged the MEDIA to function as Medium of Empowerment for Development through Informed Actions and to correlate the text with the context for informed communication to the readers and viewers.

Shri Naidu informed the gathering that since assuming the office of the Vice President of India and Chairman of Rajya Sabha, he has extensively interacted with various stakeholders in an earnest endeavour to stir their conscience to introspect and lend their might to realise the quest of our nation to reach new horizons, by invoking the nation's past and reflecting on the present as the young India seeks to define and realise its future. He further said this 'Connect India Mission' has convinced him that change is possible if the countrymen can act united.

The Union Minister for Social Justice and Empowerment, Shri Thaawar Chand Gehlot, the Minister of State for Youth Affairs & Sports and Information & Broadcasting (I/C), Col. Rajyavardhan Singh Rathore, the Deputy Chairman, Rajya Sabha, Shri Harivansh, the Secretary to the Vice President, Dr. I.V. Subba Rao, the Secretary, Ministry of I&B, Shri Amit Khare and other dignitaries were present on the occasion.
