UNDERSTANDING LINKAGES BETWEEN SKILLS, EDUCATION AND EARNINGS

Dr. Megha Shree, Dr. P. Geetha Rani and Dr. Rajesh Shukla

Skilling has emerged as a buzz word in the policy environment. The thrust for a policy-backed Skill Development Initiative is a significant step towards realizing the potential of the Indian workforce by enhancing its skill-ability and thus employability. The Skill India initiative seeks to strengthen institutional training, training of trainers, infrastructure and leveraging of public infrastructure so as to enhance employment both nationally and internationally for the attainment of sustainable livelihoods of the majority workforce. However, there remains a huge gap between the current levels and the desired goals in terms of creating a higher or threshold level skilled workforce, so as to see India as a developed nation in the near future. But, the proportion of formally skilled workers in India is extremely low at 4.69% of the total workforce compared to China's 24%, 52% in the US, 68% in the UK, 75% in Germany, 80% in Japan and 96% in South Korea. It is clear that India lags far behind.

The foremost challenge is the existence of a huge proportion of unskilled or poorly trained workers in the informal sector wherein the largest employment generation occurs in the country. The major challenge is that though the net enrolment rate in primary education (grades 1-5) is almost universal, almost half of the enrolled children dropped out from school, and entered the workforce without acquiring the basic numeracy and literacy skills. Thereby, the large majority of skill training is carried out through self-taught practices, observation or transfer of skills from a master craftsman to an apprentice. Though the National Skill Qualification Framework makes efforts to provide the skilling of a largely unskilled workforce, it needs to go a long way in this regard.

Yet another concern in India is the mismatch between skill, academic training, and employment and this has broadened to such an extent, on the one hand, employers are unable to discover suitably trained people, while on the other, the youth is unable to find the aspired jobs. According to the latest India Skill Report (2019), mere 45.6% of youth graduating from educational institutions are employable. In this context, it is imperative to understand the levels of skills, their demand and the 'returns to skill' concepts.

It is an inevitable fact that a better-skilled person always remains in a better position in terms of earnings. But to understand the impact of skills on employment and earnings one needs to take a closer and analytical look at it. The International Labour organization concept on The International Standard Classification of Occupations (ILO, ISCO-08) provides a framework to make it possible to compare occupational data internationally. ISCO-08 does not seek to substitute existing national classification of occupations but enables inter-country comparisons by aligning occupational

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN FOOD NUTRITION & DIETETICS

Dr. Uttara Singh

Proper nutrition is one of the most essential elements to being healthy and living a long life. People deal with food every day, and food has been a part of life since the beginning of civilization. What we eat becomes our diet, and our diet plays a major role in deciding how healthy we are and how well our body functions. Without proper diet, our body cannot carry out the functions it needs to perform. Most people have some common knowledge on what is good and what is bad for the human body to consume. The effective management of food intake and nutrition are key to good health. Smart nutrition and food choices can help prevent disease. Eating the right foods can help your body cope more successfully with an ongoing illness. Understanding good nutrition and paying attention to what you eat can help you maintain or improve your health. The term 'food' brings to our mind countless images. We think of items not only that we eat and drink but also how we eat them and the places and people with whom we eat and drink. Food plays an important role in our lives and is closely associated with our existence. It is probably one of the most important needs of our lives. The food that we eat is composed of small units that provide nourishment to the body. These are required in varying amounts in different parts of the body for performing specific functions. This means that good nutrition is essential for good health. However, if our diet provides the important units in incorrect amounts, either very less or in excess of what is required, it results in an imbalance of nutrients in your body. The condition is responsible for various deficiency diseases and slow or no growth of the body.

Nutrition is the science that interprets the interaction of nutrients and other substances in food in relation to maintenance, growth, reproduction, health and disease of an organism. It includes food intake, absorption, assimilation, biosynthesis, catabolism and excretion. Nutrition-related jobs exist in a huge range of employment sectors, from health care and education to food service and manufacturing. One could potentially work in hospitals, schools, wellness centers, corporate cafeterias, research labs, and many other settings. With food and nutrition careers, there's plenty to explore and plenty of ways to make a difference. Broadly speaking, nutritionist/dietitian's careers focus on the relationship between food and health. Being a nutritionist means understanding the physiological ways the human body responds to food and the role that nutrients play in the treatment and prevention of disease. Professionals in this field teach people about the nutritional value of different foods and offer advice about the kinds of foods people can eat to maintain a healthy lifestyle. Dietician job involve creating dietary plans to manage medical conditions or achieve specific health goals.

CAREER PROSPECTS AND JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Diverse job opportunities exist in front of nutritionists and dieticians in India. Both Government and private sector job opportunities are available in front of them. The possibilities are plentiful, depending on degree/qualifications in food and nutrition/food science nutrition/dietetics. Nutritionists or dieticians may build a career in the following sectors-

1. Hospitals, clinics, and other health care facilities/ Registered Dietician/ Nutritionist

Dietician organize food and nutrition plan and promote healthy eating habits to prevent and treat illness. They find work in food service businesses, or working with patients in hospitals, clinics and other healthcare facilities. Typical tasks of nutritionists include assessing a client's dietary needs, consulting with a variety of health professionals, and creating a customized nutrition plan. In some cases, they also offer nutritional counseling. The process for learning how to be a nutritionist varies widely from state to state, so be sure to research the requirements in your area

2. Sports training, gyms and fitness centers

Sports nutrition, involves diet planning according to the body's requirement and workout intensity followed at the gym, which will help in giving optimum results. Dietitian indulges in customized diet plans by keeping the members' lifestyle, likes-dislikes and financial constraints in mind.

3. Food manufacturing companies

It involves formulating/reformulating foods to make them healthier (i.e. lower salt, higher fibre, higher protein), assisting with the design of products for people with special medical needs, human and animal research: building scientific evidence to support nutrition claims for new products, involvement in industry committees to improve nutrition regulations, quality assurance, advising food safety/toxicology, project management, nutrition strategy, nutrition policy, nutritional education, advising on consumer trends, addressing consumer enquiries, preparing nutritional marketing material for in-house use or for public use and public speaking related to general nutrition and/or products

4. Academic institutions/ Government agencies

One can be a School teachers, lecturers and Assistant Professor in schools, colleges and Universities/ Institutions. There are multiple nutrition jobs available in local and state/central government. Talking about Government sector, some of the well known recruiters include, Government hospitals, Community health centres, Government Schemes and Missions (like ICDS, NHRM etc), Government Organizations (like FNB, ICMR, Public Health Foundation etc.), Government R&D units, Government Nursing homes and Government Nutrition Education Institutes

5. Public health organizations/ Community centers

A public health nutritionist is an expert in diet and nutrition who works to improve public nutritional habits instead of working one on one with individual clients. They are registered dieticians, and they focus on helping to implement strategies for a community or for a large organization that will improve the nutrition of the population, and thus have a positive influence on that population's health and wellbeing. Dietician in this practice area may work in settings such as public health clinics, fitness centers, corporate wellness programs or home health agencies.

6. Food product development scientist

Finding new ways to improve the safety, flavor, or nutritional value of different food products is the job of food product development scientists. They come up with processes and formulations to improve food quality while controlling costs. Many positions call for advanced degrees, but some are open to those with a bachelor's degree.

7. Regulatory affairs specialist

Ensuring that the development and production of food items comply with all applicable laws is the task of regulatory affairs specialists. Their job is to make sure that the company they work for operates within the rules. It's important to stay on top of food and dietary legislation and conduct regular reviews of processes. Most employers look for a degree in nutrition, food science, or a related field.

8. Nutritional therapist

Drawing on an understanding of both nutrition and human behavior, a nutritional therapist takes a holistic approach to wellness and assesses all aspects of a person's lifestyle in order to develop a nutritional plan. For a nutritional therapist, salary and job duties can both vary widely, depending on how much experience the person has and what licenses or certifications he or she holds

9. Food labeling specialist

Food labeling specialists are responsible for coming up with the nutritional labels on food products. They make sure that product ingredients, nutritional facts, and allergen warnings are accurate and in line with industry regulations.

10. Corporate wellness consultant

A growing number of private businesses and corporations are hiring wellness consultants to provide guidance on healthy eating and exercise habits. These consultants might offer general tips on nutrition and health or lead seminars on how office workers can manage stress or avoid muscle fatigue. You'll need strong customer service skills for this kind of work.

11. Food safety auditor

Reviewing and analyzing the safety and sanitation procedures at companies that process, manufacture, or serve food is the primary focus of food safety auditors. They conduct inspections, write reports, and sometimes educate workers on policies and procedures.

12. Nutrition services manager

Schools, hospitals, care facilities, and other institutions rely on nutrition services managers to plan and coordinate the large-scale delivery of nutritionally appropriate meals. This role involves planning menus, procuring supplies, managing budgets, and overseeing food preparation.

13. Humanitarian nutritionist

Focusing on malnutrition and hunger in disaster zones or developing countries can be a rewarding way to put your nutritional knowledge to work. Humanitarian nutritionists evaluate the food supply systems in different areas and develop programs to fill any nutritional gaps. They might set up a mobile center to treat malnourished children or advise villagers on the best items to plant in a communal vegetable garden.

14. Nutrition educator

Nutrition educators develop programs to promote healthy food choices and habits. They often work for government agencies that serve new mothers or low-income groups. They might offer information about basic nutrition along with tips on budgeting and food safety. They might also be responsible for screening candidates for food assistance services and helping applicants with paperwork.

15. Nutrition writer

As a nutrition writer, one could channel his/her food and diet expertise into e-books, newspaper columns, magazine articles, or web content. Possible topics include anything from trends in healthy eating to the latest research on specific vitamins or nutrients. Most of this work is freelance. Formal training in nutrition will give you more credibility; courses in journalism or communication will also help.

16. Nutrition assistant

In a hospital, nursing home, or other clinical care setting, nutrition assistants typically help prepare food, distribute meals, and ensure that patients get the proper nourishment. They talk to patients about food preferences, record how much each patient ate, and report any dietary issues to the supervising nutritionist or dietitian.

17. Food Service Management

Food service directors work in a variety of setting including: hospitals, long-term care and assisted living facilities, schools, colleges/ universities, government facilities, etc. In addition to needing skills in food production, food safety and general nutrition, they also need to have skills in business management, including marketing, accounting and human resource management.

18. Public Policy

Many government and private food and nutrition related organizations (eg. USDA, FDA, Health Management Organizations, insurance companies, the National Restaurant Association, etc.) employ individuals who are experts in public policy. Individuals who pursue a career in public policy may benefit from gaining knowledge in political science, sociology, environmental science and sustainability, and public speaking in addition to food safety, dietary guidelines and food regulations.

19. Food Safety/ Government Regulations

Many opportunities exist for a career in food safety. Many private and government agencies hire food safety inspectors to ensure that government regulations for food safety and food manufacturing are being upheld. State health departments are responsible for inspecting restaurants and other food service facilities to ensure compliance with food safety regulations. Individuals who pursue a career in food safety may benefit from gaining knowledge in food science, food microbiology, food safety, and food regulations. In addition these individuals need an understanding of how regulations and laws pertain to food-borne illness and food safety.

20. Culinary Science

Students in the Nutrition Studies may also choose to pursue a career in culinary science. Culinary specialists may work in food industry (eg. test kitchen, recipe development), food service management (eg. menu development for schools or healthcare facilities, etc.), or education/communication (eg. community classes, television cooking shows, or food journalism). Students interested in this career track may require knowledge in advanced food science and cooking, food chemistry and microbiology, food safety, general nutrition, marketing, advertising and public speaking.

21. Sustainable Nutrition/ Food Systems

There is a growing demand for students interested in sustainability related to nutrition and food production. Students may pursue a career that engages and educates individuals and communities in topics of sustainable nutrition and health by connecting them with food producers and the production of food, helping organizations become more sustainable and teaching about local food systems. Experts in this area serve as resources or consultants to schools, community education programs, farmers markets and other organizations for the development and implementation of farm-to-fork, farm-to-school, community gardening, and other programs. Individuals in this career track need knowledge of food production systems, agriculture policy, organic regulations, basic agronomy and horticulture, and the culinary arts. In addition, students need to have strong communication skills, including oral presentation and technical writing skills.

Backlog unfilled vacancies of earlier recruitment exercises. If suitable candidates from respective reserved category are not available for these backlog posts then PwD candidate of other category may be considered by interchange of category among identified suitable posts and if no suitable PwD person even by interchange of category is available, the posts will be filled up with other than a person with disability.

It includes shortfall posts of PwD arising out of the recasting of rosters as per DOPT's O.M. No. 36012/24/2009 – Estt(Rs.) dated 03.12.2013.

Abbreviations Used: PwD= Persons with Disabilities, VH= Visually Handicapped, HH= Hearing Handicapped, OH= Orthopedically Handicapped,OA= One Arm, OL= One Leg, BL=Both Legs, B – Blind, LV – Low Vision, EWS – Economically Weaker Section

Note:

- The courses offered by Institutes / Universities through the regular mode should be approved / recognized by the relevant statutory bodies for employment to posts and services under the central Government like Association of Indian Universities (AIU)/ UGC/AICTE etc. Candidates who have obtained their qualification through Distance Learning / part time mode are also eligible to apply provided their qualification is recognized by the relevant statutory bodies for employment to posts and services of the central government.
- Qualifications mentioned in the table above are sacrosanct. No equivalent Qualification will be accepted e.g. AMIE will not be considered where qualification is Graduate degree in Engineering.
- Calculation of percentage of marks in the qualifying degree is as per University / Institution rules.

d. Wherever CGPA/ OGPA/ CPI/ DGPA or letter grade in degree is awarded, equivalent % of marks should be indicated in the online application as per norms adopted by concerned University/ Institute. Please also obtain a certificate to this effect from the University/ Institute, which shall be required to be submitted at the time of interview. If university/Institute does not have the provision for conversion of CGPA/ OGPA/ CPI/ DGPA or letter grade into percentage then minimum 6 on 10 point scale will be considered as 60%.

e. Students in final year/semester of the qualifying course of study are also eligible to apply. However, if such candidates are short listed for interview and they do not possess qualifying degree with minimum prescribed percentage of marks, wherever applicable, at the time of interview, their candidature will be treated as provisional subject to submission of documentary proof of having completed all requirements of completing the qualifying degree with minimum prescribed percentage of marks, wherever applicable, by 31.07.2019. If they fail to submit the document by 31.07.2019, their candidature will be summarily rejected and no communication/ consideration will be entertained in this regard.

f. In case there is no mention of specialization in the qualifying degree as required in the Minimum Essential Qualifications above, candidates are to submit a certificate at the time of interview from their institution / university with a clear mention of their specialization in the qualifying degree.

g. Where the posts specified in this advertisement are not reserved for a category (ies), a reserved category candidate can also apply provided she/ he fulfill the criteria specified for Unreserved Category. She/ He shall be treated at par with unreserved category candidates in selection process.

7. SELECTION PROCESS:-

Online applications submitted by the candidates on ITBP recruitment website will be scrutinized. Online Admit Cards will be issued to the candidates whose online applications are found in order to appear in the recruitment process i.e. Documentation, Physical Standard Test (PST) and Detailed Medical Examination. Candidates will have to undergo the following process of recruitment:-

(i) Documentation:-

(a) All candidates reporting for recruitment will have to go through documentation, in which candidates will have to produce all original documents/certificates pertaining to age, education, caste, sports achievement as per Para 4 (b), proof to avail age relaxation etc. in the prescribed format before the Recruitment Board including the document already uploaded on ITBP recruitment website.

(b) After scrutiny of the original documents and sports certificate to the satisfaction of the Recruitment Board, the candidates whose documents are found in order will be asked to submit self attested copies of the documents/sports certificate to the Recruitment Board on the spot. Original documents will be returned. ITBP at its discretion can check or verify genuineness of any document/certificate produced by the candidates during recruitment and the decision of ITBP after such verifications/checking shall be final.

(c) Players who have participated or won medal(s) in the competitions given at Para 4 (b) above in the past 02 calendar years w.e.f. 01/01/2017 till 21/06/2019 shall be eligible for recruitment to the post of Constable/GD (Sportsman) in ITBP.

(d) Candidates will be given marks for medals won or level of participation during aforementioned time period only.

(e) Only the marks of that one higher medal/position or level of participation in which a candidate is getting maximum marks as per the table given at Para 4 (b) will be considered.

(f) If any candidate has secured more than 1 medal in a particular competition, in that case he/she shall be awarded marks for only one highest medal/position secured in the competition.

(g) The minimum qualifying marks will be 12 for all category i.e. UR/SC/ST/OBC candidates.

(h) Candidates who are unable to produce the prescribed certificates/documents will be rejected summarily and candidates who declared qualified in documentation stage will be sent to Physical Standard Test (PST).

(ii) Physical Standard Test (PST):-

(a) Candidates who qualify in documentation will undergo PST as per standards mentioned at Para 4 (c) above.

(b) Candidates seeking relaxation in height and chest will be required to submit the certificate as per Annexure-V regarding their community from concerned District Authorities. In the event of non enclosure of the certificate their claim for relaxation in height and chest shall not be entertained.

(c) Case for relaxation in the physical standard for those candidates who do not meet the physical standards advertisement but are otherwise eligible and medically fit in the DME will be taken up with the Competent Authority and till such time vacancies will be kept reserved. In case competent authority does not permit relaxation in physical standards such candidates will be rejected and they will be informed in due course of time. In case competent authority approved the relaxation in physical standards advertisement such candidates will be issued Offer of appointment.

(iii) Merit List:- After completion of Physical Standard Test, Merit list will be drawn on the basis of marks obtained by the candidates as per table given at Para 4 (b) in the advertised sports discipline. The candidates shall be shortlisted for Detailed Medical Examination (DME) on the basis of merit. Tie cases will be resolved as under:-

- Candidate securing highest marks will be placed higher in the merit list.
- If tie persist, candidate older in age will be given priority.
- If tie still persist, candidate's name in alphabetical order in English will be given priority.

(iv) Detailed Medical Examination (DME):- Candidates selected in order of merit as per number of vacancies will be put through medical examination (DME) to assess their fitness as per the medical guidelines issued from time to time by MHA.

(v) Appeal against Detailed Medical Examination:-

a) A candidate declared unfit in detailed medical examination, if not satisfied with the findings of the Medical Officer, can submit an appeal for his/her re-medical examination alongwith a Medical Fitness Certificate as per Annexure-VI, as a piece of evidence about the possibility of an error of judgment in the decision of the Medical Officer.

b) The medical certificate will not be taken into consideration unless it contains a note by the medical practitioner concerned to the effect that it has been given in full knowledge of the fact that the candidate has already been rejected as unfit for appointment by a Medical Officer.

c) The appeal will also not be taken into consideration unless it contains Medical Re-Examination fee of Rs. 25/- through Indian Postal Order in the name of the Commandant (Recruitment), Dte. Gen. ITBP Block-IV, CGO Complex, Lodi Road, New Delhi-110003 and rejection slip (in original) issued by the Presiding Officer.

d) The appeal should be submitted within 15 days from the date of issue of the Rejection Slip (in which the finding of the Medical Officer is communicated to the candidate) the Commandant (Recruitment), Dte. Gen. ITBP Block-IV, CGO Complex, Lodi Road, New Delhi-110003. The appeal received after prescribed 15 days or without relevant documents will not be entertained. ITBP will not be responsible for any postal delay.

e) The candidates who have been declared unfit in Detailed Medical Examination will be briefed about the procedure for filling an appeal for remedical examination at the venue.

f) The decision of ITBP Board of Doctors shall be final for declaring a candidate Fit or Unfit.

g) There will be no second RME appeal for candidates declared unfit in DME.

8. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS:

8.1	All candidates who have been called for Documentation, PST and DME will bring a clear and legible print out of the online application form submitted by them for purpose of identification, etc or else they will not be permitted to enter the venue. PERSISTENCE, HARD WORK AND LEARNING FROM PAST MISTAKES PAYS SAYS SUCCESSFUL CIVIL SERVICE OFFICER SAURABH SUMAN YADAV

Saurabh Suman Yadav has got 55th rank in the recently announced results of Civil Services Exam-2018 conducted by the Union Public Service Commission.

Responding to the queries from Employment News, Saurabh said one should persist and not give up when things do not go well. He attributed his success to persistence and hard work. Here are the answers he gave in response to Employment News question.

Q. Employment News wishes you heartiest congratulations on your exceptional achievement! We are happy that your hard work has paid off. How did you feel when you came to know that you did not have only succeeded in one of the toughest exams in India but your name also got a good rank? Can you share those moments of happiness with our readers?

It was a dream come true and this was something for which I had put in years of effort. More importantly I felt happy for my family who had made innumerable sacrifices to support me in the entire preparation process.

Q) What is the secret of your success?

There is no secret. I feel it's about persisting and not giving up when things don't go well. Instead I tried to stay strong and learn from failures and try even harder next time. I also tried not to worry about things that were beyond my control.

Q) How did you approach this exam? What was your strategy in general (Prelims, Mains, and Interview)?

The first step was to study the syllabus for the examination and totally internalize it. Next, I looked at previous years papers in order to get an idea of the examination. I tried to limit my source for various subjects so that I could finish the syllabus on time and have time for revision. I learnt from the first few attempts that a lot of writing practice is a must for success in this examination and hence I devoted at least half my time to writing practice. I also subscribed to a test series in order to evaluate my preparation and make course correction both for prelims and mains.

For interview I thoroughly prepared each and every point on my DAF (Detailed Application Form). I took 2 mock interviews and took guidance from colleagues and seniors.

Q) What were your strategies for the lengthy syllabus of General Studies for both Prelims and Mains?

Prelims : For general studies paper, I focused on reading basic text books thoroughly, have a good hold on current affairs and finally attempt one complete test series to evaluate preparation.

Mains: GS 1 - For the static topics I read standard text books. Section on Indian Society is slightly dynamic and hence I also covered current affairs related to the topics.

GS 2 and GS 3 - Along with standard text books I also studied current affairs related to the topic and tried to link the static and current affairs portion. Newspapers are a very good source of information for these two papers. I read Indian Express and Mint every day.

GS 4 - For GS 4, I tried to have a clear understanding of each word and phrase in the syllabus. Subsequently, I focused on the application of these concepts in case studies. I also prepared a list of keywords and examples from various sources in order to have a ready reference.

Books that I referred to for various subjects

GS1 :

1. Geography - NCERT class 11 & 12 books along with

Prelims and Mains have a lot in common and hence I followed an integrated approach. Paper 1 of prelims covers many topics for GS papers 1, 2 & 3. However, one month before the prelims

Q) Did you integrate your Prelims or Mains preparation or was it separate in the changing scenario?

examinations, I focused exclusively on prelims.

Q) How did your prepare for essay?

For essay preparation I did a lot of writing practice. I tried to write at least two essays each week for 3- 4 months and have it reviewed by friends. I also took an essay test series. Knowledge of general studies paper comes in handy in essay writing. I also tried to learn from sample essays of topper available on the internet. The topics I picked in CSE 2018 exam were

1. Poverty anywhere is a threat to prosperity everywhere

2. Customary morality cannot be a guide to modern life

Q) How did you manage your time during the preparation?

I tried to put as many hours as possible before and after office hours. I tried to use the weekends effectively. I also ensured that due weightage was given to each section of syllabus - Essay, General Studies and Optional.

Q) How did you maintain your tempo and what did you do to break the monotony of preparation?

I tried to stay focused on achieving my target. I order to break the monotony, I switched subjects that I was studying. I also indulged in sports and outdoor activities like running to keep myself motivated.

Q) Your advice for future aspirants.

I come from a very humble background and I feel whatever little success I have achieved is due to my persistence, hard work and learning from past mistakes. If you inculcate these principles in your life, you will have a good chance of achieve your goals.

classifications to ISCO-08 in concept and structure.

In the Indian context, many studies estimate returns to education at the national level using NSSO data, India Human Development Surveys I and II (IHDS), National Survey Data on Savings Patterns of India, etc. But, there are hardly studies that investigate the labor-market return on skill due to the absence of skill-based earning data.

Skills measurement:

To bridge this gap, ICE360⁰ (2016) survey of 60,360 households and 2,50,720 individuals covering multi-dimensional aspects of the economy, society, and polity plays a crucial role. Geographically, the sample has been drawn from across 216 districts, 1217 villages and 487 towns spread across 25 major states. By applying ISCO-08 concepts to ICE360⁰ survey (2016), authors have classified the skill levels, where skill is defined as the ability to carry out tasks and duties of a given job for which the person earns a remuneration. This corresponds to 62.4% of the total population who belong to the working-age group of 15 to 65 years who are eligible to work excluding students and those unable to work.

Type of Skill levels

Skill Level	Definition	Examples
Level 1	Skills involving simple and routine physical or manual tasks	Hawker, Street vendor, Gardner, Cook, Household servant, Construction worker, Mason, etc.
Level 2	Skills involving the operation of machinery and electronic equipment	Plumber, Electrician, Artisan, Barber, Mechanic, Tailor, etc.
Level 3	Skills involving written records of work, simple calculations, good personal communication skills in specialized fields	Clerical, Supervisory level, etc.
Level 4	Skills involving decision making and creativity based on theoretical and factual knowledge	Doctor, Lawyer, Chartered Accountant, Engineer, Architect, Scientist, Actor, Author, etc.

Workforce Profile by Skill levels:

Little above half (56%) of the labour market is dominated by people who are classified as Type 2 skill level while 30% constitutes skill level 1 type. Nearly 11% of the population can be classified at skill level 3 while the smallest share is that owes skill level 4.

It is not surprising that higher skill level individuals reside in urban areas, due to the availability of numerous employment opportunities. On the contrary, a mere 26% of skill level, 2 individuals residing in urban areas.

Slightly more than over half of skill level 1 individual are in the 15-35 years' age group. This is a serious cause of concern that a major share of young India possesses low skills only. The rest that is about 40% of the young workforce consists of other skill levels.

As one would expect, there is a high correlation between skill level and education. Higher the education, higher the skill level. It can be clearly seen that only 3% of skill level 1 individual have high educational qualifications compared to 65% of workers of skill level 4.

Even within the same employment type, there are significant differences in earnings across different skill levels. A regular salaried earner, at skill level 4, on an average makes Rs 500,000 a year (US $7000) which is about 2.2 times higher than his counterpart at skill level 1.

Data suggest that individuals who are classified as having skill level 4 have the highest average annual individual income of Rs. 420,000 (US $6000 based on the average exchange rate in 2019). This is about 1.5 times higher than that of a worker with skill level 3 (Rs 280,000 or US $4000). This person's earning is approximately 2.4 times higher than that of skill level 2 type worker (Rs 176,000 or US $3000). This worker, in turn, has an income that is 3.1 times higher than that of his skill level 1 (Rs 137,000 or US $2000) than his counterparts. The divergence in earnings between skill levels is quite apparent. The contributing factors are many, viz. Education, age, gender, region, etc.

Factors contributing to variations in returns to skills:

Characteristic corresponds to the labour force is that the higher skill levels are dominated largely by higher educated workers, while casual jobs are offered to those with lower educational qualifications. In the past, there was no advantage for female workers to be highly educated as it did not translate into higher wage earnings when compared to their not-so well-educated counterparts. But in recent times, factors such as age, education, skill levels, gender, a sector of employment as well as digital access play key roles in income differentials. These correlations have been established using robust statistical exercises.

Gender is a key determinant in the earnings differential. Males earn almost 1.2 times the wages earned by females. This earning gap gives men an advantage in the overall job market. However, there has been a healthy upswing in the share of females being recruited for jobs with higher skill levels.

Skill and education linkages are critical to assessing returns to skills: the central idea being that there is a premium on higher education and hence better-educated workers receive higher earnings. Age is normally associated with the person's experience and thus plays a key role in determining the earnings. At the basic skill levels - i.e. 1 and 2 - the earnings increase with age but the rate of increase is marginal. While entry-level workers at skill levels 3 and 4 belong to the age group of 21 to 25 years, implying that there is certain minimum education needed to accomplish these higher order skill levels and therefore higher earnings. This further widens the gap between workers at skill levels 1 and 2 in relation to those at skill levels 3 and 4 (Figure 1).

Earnings by levels of education are illustrated with the age-earnings profiles of the population in the 15-65 years' group. As expected, there is a clear positive relationship between levels of education and earning as experience and on-the-job training adds to improved skills over the years. This relationship is strengthened as one moves up in the educational ladder (Figure 2).

Regular salaried income offers a foreseeable income stream and is most likely to be associated with better job security. Only 13% of skill level 1 worker report that they are paid a regular salary. In contrast, 60% of workers classified as skill level 4 earns regular salaries. Skill level 1 workers, on the other hand, receive 75% of their earnings from non-agriculture wage labour as daily wages. It is important to note that skill level 3 and 4 workers are concentrated in regular salaried and self-employed non-agriculture occupations. This wide disparity in skill levels of the labour force is a cause for concern in terms of employability.

Digital usage has widened the earnings differential across skill levels. Our data shows that as skill levels rise, ICT usage too grows. Besides, the use of internet at the individual level also shows a positive relationship with returns to skills. The Internet-using individual earns more than double that of non-users. For example, if an average Indian earns Rs 100, the ICT user earns Rs 169 while the non-ICT user's earning is only Rs 80. This is evident across all skill level types. Based on this, one can argue that internet usage plays a vital role in increased earnings.

Yet another variation in earnings can be from the dwelling units of the workforce. More than three-fourths of skill level 4 workforce resides in pucca houses while only 35% of skill level 1 worker do so. Household amenities like tap water, a separate kitchen, an in-house toilet, and liquified petroleum gas (LPG) stove are mostly to be found in the houses of skill level,4 workers. The home conditions of the workers with skill level 4 are indeed superior in terms of various household amenities. However, access to electricity connections is a common feature across all skill level type households.

Clearly, this skill level concept can help us better understand the connection between earnings and quality of labour force. Such analysis is likely to provide important insights regarding the skill levels, which would require re-qualification and re-specialization of the labour force in order to compete in fast-changing globalized India. It can further be used to retrain and equip the workforce with adequate skills. At the concluding note, a substantial share of the population is still at skill levels 1 and 2 (86%) and is thus earning much lower than those with skill levels 3 and 4. This is a huge concern for policymakers as well as the youth of India. There is an urgent need to take a serious look at the education system including technical vocational training in order to correct the anomalies that currently exist and enable the growing workforce to respond to the demand for skilled workers as well as improve their earnings.
